Now doe you know the reason of this haſte?
Fri. I would I knew not why it ſhould be ſlowed.
Looke ſir here comes the Lady towards my Cell.
Enter. Iuliet.
Par. Happily met my Lady and my wife.
Iu. That may be ſir, when I may be a wife.
Pa. That may be muſt be loue, on Thurſday next.
Iu. What muſt be, ſhall be.
Fri. Thats a certayne text.
Par. Come you to make confeſſion to this Father?
Iu. To anſwere that, I ſhould confeſſe to you.
Pa. Doe not denie to him, that you loue me.
Iu. I will confeſſe to you that I loue him.
Par. So will ye, I am ſure that you loue me.
Iu. If I doe ſo, it will bee of more price,
Being ſpoke behind your backe, then to your face.
Par. Poore ſoule thy face is much abuſd with teares.
Iu. The teares haue got ſmall victorie by that,
For it was bad enough before their ſpight.
Pa. Thou wrongſt it more then teares with that report.
Iu. That is ſlander ſir, which is a truth,
And what I ſpake, I ſpake it to my face.
Pa. Thy face is mine, and thou haſt ſlaundred it.
Iu. It may be ſo, for it is not mine owne.
Are you at leaſure, holy Father now,
Or ſhall I come to you at Euening Maſſe?
Fri. My leiſure ſerues me, penſiue Daughter now,
My Lord we muſt intreate the time alone.
Pa. Godſhield, I ſhould diſturbe deuotion,

Till then adue, and keepe this holy kiſſe. Exit.
